

Good medicine

Graeme Shaw and Owen Finegan at the launch of the Laughter Series.

Take a look at Camp Quality's website and the most important message you'll find is this: "We believe in bringing optimism and happiness to the lives of children and families affected by cancer through fun therapy. We believe laughter is the best medicine."

So it was more than appropriate for the Canberra-based winery Shaw Vineyards to produce a special range of wines called the Laughter Series to help the organisation raise much-needed funds for its ongoing work with young cancer sufferers.

The Laughter Series continues a 17-year association between Camp Quality and the burgeoning winery which hopes to produce 10,000 cases and raise $500,000.

The new wines, crafted by Graeme Shaw and his team, comprise a semillon sauvignon blanc, a semillon riesling, shiraz cabernet and cabernet sauvignon all from the 2008 vintage. The wines retail for $129 a case and $50 from each case will be donated to the Camp Quality organisation in the buyer's city or town.

The Laughter Series is available for purchase from www.shawvineyards.com.au and www.campquality.org.au/laughterserieswines. The Illawarra's Camp Quality headquarters number is 4256 0127.
