

Paul Bradfield's return to Australia

Media statement
1 October, 2009

"Paul Bradfield will arrive in Townsville today. Morleys Funerals will take Paul to Townsville Hospital where an autopsy will be done as soon as possible."

"Camp Quality would like to acknowledge the support of the Australian High Commission in the repatriation of Paul back to Australia."

"The day of Paul's death had been an easy trekking day which had finished around 1.00pm. We spent the afternoon swimming in the river, playing with the local children, reading and relaxing. As normal we had dinner early and went to bed around 7.30pm. There was no visible sign of Paul having any difficulty."

Mark McGregor, Camp Quality North Queensland Area Manager

"Camp Quality will support the Bradfield family not only during this difficult time but for ever and a day. We are an organisation that supports our families no matter what the situation."

"Camp Quality is also conscious of the other trekkers wellbeing and with this in mind we shall make available free counselling services to them upon their return and in to the future."
