

Local bullride legends will buck out at the Bash

Shane Connolly and Danny Salgado will once again kick-start the “Mechanical Bull Shootout ” for Pittsworth’s Broxburn Bash on Friday 30th April at 8pm.

This ‘family entertainment with a plus’ event, sponsored by H&C Stone, will have Shane and Danny available to offer their expertise on bull riding to competitors prior to the event start, open the event with demonstration rides and then settle back in the judges chairs to oversee competitors take the bullride challenge.

Both bullride legends will be available after this event to chat about their careers and their enthusiasm toward a new project they’ve become involved with, the “ Filcon Legends Bullride”.

With major sponsorship from Filcon Safety Group, the Legends Bullride is an exhibition by a team of seven legendary champion bullriders, all over 50 years of age, who have returned to the arena to demonstrate their unique combination of showmanship and bullriding prowess, where they not only entertain packed arenas, but at the same time raise funds for Camp Quality.

Shane and Danny say “ money can’t entice us to put life and limb on the line at our ages, but such a worthwhile cause as Camp Quality gives us, and likeminded adrenalin seeking veteran cowboys, the incentive to pursue the 8 second challenge.” So cowboy-up and see you at the Bash.

For further information on the Mechanical Bull Shootout, go to www.broxburnbash.com

Filcon Legends bullriding team ... (back l-r) Col Wilson, Graham Heffernan, Bernie Wallis, Mitch Deans, Lance Anderson. Front l-r: Shane Connolly, Danny Salgado. Photo supplied